Modification 2 -- The effect of the amendments to rule 115 and schedule I is that the Commissioner of Police will not have power to grant licences to import dangerous petroleum as in British India, where the District Authority can grant such licences for quantities not exceeding 60 gallons at a time, and all licences for importation into the Station will be issued by the Chief Inspector--vide Articles 5, 6 and 7 of Schedule I. Similar modifications have been included in the Rules applied to Hyderabad Administered Areas.

S.N. 19 : Corresponds to the draft at c.p.20/F.570-38. Section 29 A has been added and the Notification No.157-I.B., dated the 18th May 1939, applying the British Indian Rules to the C & M Station, has been issued under this section. It is not clear whether the powers conferred by Political Department Notification No.177-I.B., dated the 10th August 1938, were not sufficient for the purpose. We need not perhaps pursue the point in this case.

S.N. 20 : Please see our draft at c.p.28-29/F.570-38, in which it was proposed to omit Rule 2. As already pointed out the Chief Inspector of Explosives with the Government of India issues licences in Form K under article 4 of Schedule I of the Petroleum Rules, 1937, as applied to the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore. The authority for the Commissioner of Police to grant licences up to 500 gallons is not known. The licence form K does not throw any light on this point. If approved the Commissioner of Police may be requested u.o. to clarify the position.

When the amendments are finally issued they will automatically apply to the C & M Station. Existing rules 128(2) and (3) of the Petroleum Rules require that fees in respect of licences granted by the District Authority shall be paid by means of impressed stamps or in cash and all other fees shall be paid in cash or by cheque. If the convenience of the Department is taken into consideration it appears that payment by means of impressed stamps is more convenient than in cash, which will again have to be remitted to the treasury according to the prescribed procedure, which is cumbersome to a degree. But if cash payments are accepted it will save a lot of worry to the public, who will have to buy prescrib-ed stamps from ~~prescribed~~ specified dealers. In the Station the Commissioner of Police issues licences only in forms I and J and the money tansactions will not be many. It is not likely that many licences will be issued by him under the Carbide of Calcium Rules also. It does not therefore appear necessary to criticise the draft amendment, which has apparently been proposed to help the public and to provide for uniform method of payment. If approved the Commissioner of Police may see file u.o. The amendments may be communicated to him after they are finally issued.
